

Arthur Burt

Many from around the world have visited his home, Bron Wendon, in Penmaenmawr, North Wales, and many have come to the annual "Living Waters" conventions. Many know the story, "A house for the glory of God."

Arthur and Marjorie Burt were married for 65 years and had nine children and more than 50 grandchildren and great-grandchildren. As a family man, a preacher, teacher and storyteller, he's been known in the churches all around the world as "Uncle Arthur."

He came to Wales from Paddock Wood in Kent, in England, where he was a pastor. One day in Paddock Wood the Lord spoke one Word to Arthur: "Go." He gave up his work in Kent and has taken a very specific message to some 44 nations for more than 50 years. He said it was out of painful obedience that he entered into delight and purpose, to help prepare a people to handle the glory of God...to His glory. He said, "Now that day is at hand..."

He's often said, "Big doors swing on little hinges." Arthur Burt's life changed when he answered the call of God to "Go." Consequently, many lives all over the world were changed and refocused as he freely poured out the Word the Lord had given him.

His stories, teachings and proclamations echo deep ponderings over the Word. While he searched out the mysteries of the Kingdom, his life became an adventure exploring the ways of God in many nations.

With spontaneity, humor and serious outcries, Arthur emphasizes, "Prepare! We're in the last of the last days! Humble yourself! He's calling for a people who can handle the Presence of God to the Glory of God! Jesus did everything with nothing. (John 5:30) We are ushering in the dawn of a new day. The time is at hand – the dispensation of the fullness of times, when there shall be no ebb..."
